FIRST DATE SPOT OF THE WEEK*SCION

Why? Because high-alcohol beer deserves high-octane food.

This Monday night beer dinner pairs two unlikely partners: the current behemoth of the American microbrew industry and the upstart American-Asian restaurant hoping to break the "21st and P Street" curse. Maybe Dogfish Head Brewery's magic will rub off on Scion during the meal? At the very least DFH's high-alcohol brews will run through your veins as you sample Scion's fiery shrimp, goat-cheese-stuffed dates, and braised Burgundy duck. $49.95 a person.

Location:

Monday, March 1st at Scion

2100 P St. NW
